COTTON HIGHER ON TECHNICAL POSITION

Shorts Take Profits, but Sentiment Was Not Much Improved.

The cotton market was strong yesterday, more because of a natural recovery in view of the recent heavy declines than because bullish sentiment increased. The Liverpool market was much stronger than expected, which influenced early prices, while shorts continued to take profits, resulting in some further strength. The new crop menths continued relatively higher than the near deliveries because prices were 1st 0 1st The cotton market was strong yesternew crop months continued relatively higher than the near deliveries because of the belief that spinners will not buy before. any more old crop cotton than they can help, with prospects strong that the plant-ing next month and in April will be beav-ler than in any previous year. Spot ad-vices from the South were not reassuring to those who think that present prices the market or of forcing values up. Leading spot houses were reported to be liquidating some of their holdings through other brokers, although there were denials that this selling was liquidation, but it was said to be for commission business. Outside interest was small. At the open-ing prices were 9 to 18 points above the previous closing, and throughout the early trading prices fluctuated but little above or below that, though working slightly lower in the early afternoon and firming ngain before the closing. With such consumptive demand last month in takings by the countries affected by the countr the industry is active. The January ex-ports of cotton cloths from Great Britain were 648,912,700 yards, against 559,693,500 takings by the countries affected by the Balkan war the cotton yarn and cloth trade abroad must still be very active. The figures for January consumption by the Balkan and other States of south-eastern Europe are not available, but the takings of cotton cloth from Lancashire by Greece and Rumania in the last three months of 1912 were 5.447,000 yards, against 14,701,000 yards for the last quarter of 1912. The Balkan States took 2,550,000 yards in the last quarter of 1912, against 4,921,000 the year before. Turkey's nurshaps were smaller last year. Turkey's purchases were smaller last yea than the year before, even though that country was involved in a war with Italy at the end of 1911, while Austrian con-sumption has decreased. The restoration of peace should mean large purchases of cotten goods by all of these nations. BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 18.-George A. Alden & Co. of 77 Summer street, dealers in crude rubber, made an assignment to-day resulting from financial difficulties that were brought to a head yesterday by the failure of the firm's subsidiary company in New York, known as the

New York Commercial Company. As importers of crude rubber the firm operated in South America under the name of A. H. Alden & Co. and wasknown as one of the largest concerns in the American rubber trade. There is also a London branch known as A. H. Alden & Co. Receivers have also been appointed for these two concerns.

The assignees of George A. Alden & Co. are Archibald Blanchard of W. O. Gay & Co., Arthur H. Brooks of the law firm of Myers & Brooks and William L. Wadleigh, a Boston commission mer-

When queries from fifteen banks concerning the commercial paper of George A. Alden & Co. came to a Boston mercantile rating agency early in the year the agency investigated, despite that fact that this firm has always been considered one of the soundest in Boston with universally good mercantile rating. The agency learned that the liabilities of George A. Alden & Co. had been increased approximately $1.295,000 in the last year, with a net increase in business value of about $30,000. The agency reported to its subscribers that the firm's securities could no longer be considered the gilt edged investment that they had been in

Quit Banking Department. The rumor that George C. Van Tuyl, Jr., will resign his present position as State Superintendent of Banks to become president of the Empire Trust Company cropped up again yesterday in spite of denials issued last week by both Mr. Van Tuyl and President Baldwin of the trust

Mr. Van Tuyl was out of town yesterday, so a further statement from him could not be obtained. It is thought in banking circles, however, that the rumor is at least partially correct in that it is believed to be true that Mr. Van Tuyl will quit his present

The Empire Trust Company will hold a stockholders' meeting on February 26 to consider the proposed plan of taking over the Windsor Trust Company and the Guardian Trust Company and the stood that if Mr. Van Tuyl becomes president of the enlarged Empire Trust Company, Leroy Baldwin, the present president, will become chairman of the new company will be come chairman of the new company will have a capital and surplus of about $5,000,000 and may operate one or two branches.

The arrangements for the merger have consider the proposed plan of taking ove been completed except for approvel by the stockholders of the companies affected. Clark Williams, former Superintendent Supreme Court—By Justice Lehman—Crescent Star Realty Co. vs Bertha Glutch. pany to represent them at the election of directors to be held on February 27. directors to be held on February 27.

It is thought this may mean a fight, and that the Lewisohns may be retired from the directorate. Mr. Phillips is one of the largest shareholders of the company, owning. It is thought, about 40,000 shares.

The Lewisohns controlled the company until a year ago, when several interests representing the National City Bank got on the board. Large holdings of stock were sold at that time, which may have weakened the Lewisohn control to below 51 per cent, of the stock.
